

Minden Carnival a hit despite cold, snow

From pole climbing to racing, there was action aplenty

The Minden Kinsmen's Winter Carnival seemed to come off without a hitch this weekend although cold temperatures and a snow storm on Sunday made attending some events a little uncomfortable.

The fun and excitement started early for the girls who entered the carnival queen contest on Friday evening. Judging began at 5:30 with hours stretching like days until the queen was crowned at 8:30.

Sharon Gilligan was chosen to reign for the weekend and Shelly Bull, princess, Jenny Randall, junior queen, and Margaret Brown, princess, served with her.

The action kicked off early Saturday with many people lining the streets to watch a much-improved parade. The commercial trophy was presented to Kawartha Dairy with second going to CM Construction and third place bestowed on Cox's Apparel.

In the non-commercial division, the Minden cubs and scouts received first prize, while Archie Stouffer Public School took second and Hyland Crest, third.

Back at the fair grounds participants were starting to get itchy for action as the log sawing competition got underway. Within 20 seconds Steve Bodmore and Phil Nichols were the winners with Dan Tournier and Ed Harrison sawing through the log in 25 seconds. Ray Downs and Terry Hopkins were close behind with a time of 26 seconds.

The Dead Weights took the championship in the tug of war competition. Aliases for the team are Art Nye, Rick Sullivan, Steve Bodmore, Ray Downs and Terry Hopkins.

Clambering up the pole to ring the bell in 11 seconds was the team of Steve Crowe, Larry Anderson, Perry Kimble and Bob Heppleston. Second place went to Rick Sullivan, Steve Bodmore, Allan Hildereth and Ray Downs.

In the novice hockey tournament, Baysville took the championship away from Story Park with a score of 3 - 1.

Dwight woman wins drags

Minden came close to taking the consolation trophy but were put down in the final match by North Oshawa, 3 - 1.

In the snowmobile drag races on Saturday only four competitors were allowed wins as "Dangerous" Debbie Martin from Dwight cleaned up in most of the competitions. Peter Connelly, of Haliburton started off as a winner in the 340 fan competition. Shane McKelvey, of Minden, won the 440 fan race and Connelly was again the winner in the open fan competition.

In the 340, 440 and open free air, 340, 440 liquid cooled, 340 and 440 modified, Martin took first

Echo supplement wins top honours

The Haliburton County Echo has won a premier award in the Ontario Weekly Newspaper Association's annual better newspapers competition.

The Echo's Fall Tour section, a tabloid supplement published September 24, 1980, was judged to be the best special section produced in 1980 by a weekly newspaper in Ontario with a circulation of 6,500 or less.

More than 75 community newspapers were eligible to enter the competition for the best special section.

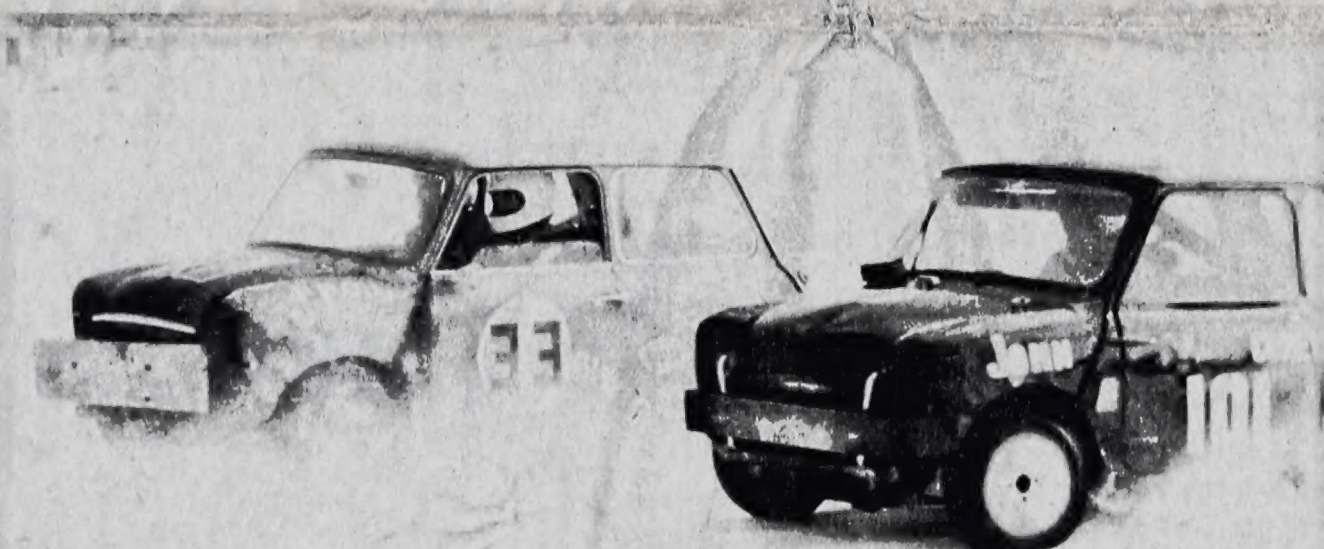

It is the second time in three years that the Echo has been honoured in the OWSA competition.

In 1978, the Echo earned a premier award for the best story on an agricultural subject published by any Ontario weekly.

The award for the best special section will be presented at the association's annual convention in Toronto early in March.

Don Harriman of Peterborough was one of 29 squash players who took part in the Highlands Squash club's first annual 'squash and ski' tournament last weekend. For more pictures and results, see page six.

The ice track on South Lake near Minden was a busy spot over the weekend as a large number of competitors turned up to try their luck against the elements and other drivers. Here, two mini's battle head to head down the straightaway.

Recorded vote shows 7 for, 6 against 17% increase

Board ratifies CUPE contract

By the narrowest of margins, the Haliburton County Board of Education has ratified a contract settlement arrived at in talks between its negotiating committee and members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees.

At a meeting last Wednesday, the board voted 7 to 6 to ratify the contract, which calls for wage increases totaling 17 percent over one year for secretaries and maintenance staff in the board's schools. The recorded vote came following a fiery committee of the whole session that was closed to the press and board employees.

Voting in favour of the settlement were board chairman Ross Anderson, and trustees Earl Cooper, Leroy Eager, Lloyd Johnston, Dave MacDonald, Cheryl Murdoch and Ralph Young.

Casting 'nay' votes were trustees Victoria Agnew, Julie Hunter, Dorothy Kinsman, Len Salvatori, Derrell Stamp and Nancy Stinson.

While wage increases were the main issue in the contract talks, the agreement also calls for an increase in the board's portion of employee benefits from 66 2/3 percent to 75 percent.

Vacation provisions were also changed slightly in the new contract, giving union employees the right to three weeks vacation after four years of experience instead of five years.

The size of the settlement was clearly the issue with some board members, who feared it might open the door for similar demands from other board employees, notably teachers.

Following the ratification vote, the board again went into a closed door session to hammer out salary guidelines to be used by its negotiating committee in upcoming contract talks with elementary and secondary school teachers.

Eakins to seek seat in election

John Eakins, incumbent MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, has announced that he will again seek the Liberal nomination for candidacy in the upcoming provincial election. Voters will go to the polls to elect a new provincial government March 19, premier William Davis announced Monday.

Stanhope family homeless in wake of weekend blaze

A Stanhope Township family was left homeless when their house burned to the ground despite efforts of a passer-by, a neighbour and the township fire department.

Carl Harrison's home at the corner of Airport Road and the North Shore Road was destroyed Friday evening.

A passer-by noticed smoke coming from the Harrison home and went to the next-door neighbour's to get help, according to township fire chief George Wilson.

When the neighbour heard there might be a fire next door he went over to investigate and then came back to his own house to call the fire department, the chief said Monday.

But the fire department could not be reached easily as the call had to be routed through an operator because the number was not handy, Wilson said.

In the meantime, Harrison returned home to find smoke coming from the house, Wilson said.

Harrison opened the garage door and saw the flames coming from the basement near the wood stove. He tried to close the door but it fell off its track, Wilson said.

The sudden gust of oxygen into the house gave life to the fire and it started to burn out of control, Wilson said.

"It really went then," he said.

When the fire department arrived at the scene with the Dysart tanker, the house was ablaze and there was little to negotiate.

Minden council considers appealing OMB's decision

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is appealing an Ontario Municipal Board decision to disallow a subdivision on Minden Lake.

At its regular council meeting, last Wednesday, council decided it would push for an appeal on the decision against the Terrelac development, owned by Elmer Hodson.

The decision, handed down on January 14, ruled against the development and in essence against the township's restricted area By-law 14-67, under which the subdivision was developed.

Later in the week, reeve Lloyd Walker said the council had no choice but to appeal the decision since it was against its by-law which governs development in the municipality.

"Really, there's no other way to go...we don't have any choice," Walker said Monday.

Although clerk Elinor Burke told council members of the Minden Lake Association which fought against the subdivision, were not pleased that council was still backing the development, Walker said the door was still open to negotiation.

Council would be very willing to negotiate the matter with the association and the developer instead of seeking another hearing, Walker said.

Toquepic Talk: Carnival plans set

by Toquepic

Strike up the band and let's have a ticker tape parade, Toquepic is back in town. Every February about this same time I try to plan my holidays so that I can be with my good friends in Haliburton and surrounding area before and right up until it's time to celebrate the annual Haliburton Winter Carnival. This year is no exception and here I am back to give you a run-down each week right up until carnival time on the various activities that you can expect to see and take part in if you attend this year's big event. You can expect to see quite a bit of me around Haliburton and surrounding area during the next few weeks. You will be able to spot me on display in many of the local store windows and on signs and advertisements leading right up until carnival time. You can also see me take part in practically all of the carnival events. Each week and beginning with this column, I will do my best to keep you up to date on just what you can expect to see and participate in when this annual event is held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 20, 21 and 22.

This year's carnival will feature many of the traditional activities which have been held in previous years but with many new events which we will touch on next week. The Rotary Club are planning on constructing an outdoor skating rink under the lights at the Haliburton Ball Park and hope that it will be ready by carnival time as many events are being planned for this ice surface including outdoor skating and an outdoor hockey tournament.

One of the main attractions again this year will be the snowmobile events on Head Lake and just today I noticed that work on the track has begun under the capable guidance of Pat Kennedy and Bob English. We will have more news on this next week.

I hope that you have left your outside Christmas tree lights up and that you will turn them on when carnival time rolls around. These lights add so much to the colour of this winter event.

If you are a local merchant there is no better time than now to begin to decorate your place of

A H M wants policy on club rental rates

Minden's community centre could face serious problems if the new curling club rents its auditorium facilities at a lower rate, a recreation committee member told Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday.

At the meeting, Ken Bannon said the committee was concerned about competing with a club that might be able to offer lower rates because of volunteer labour.

"They could conceivably undercut us," he told council.

The committee questioned if the new club building belonged to the municipality and what arrangements had been made to protect the arena's interest, Bannon told council.

Deputy-revee Doug Pritchard told Bannon that the curling club was "absolutely not in competition" with the arena according to an earlier planning meeting with club members Jim Garbutt and Godfrey Saunders. The building is municipally owned but operated and managed by the curling club, Pritchard explained.

"It's the only way they could get all the grants," Pritchard said.

However, if the municipality owns the building, Bannon said the committee would want to know which group would be responsible if the curling club had a deficit.

"We hope there is no deficit," Pritchard said. But he added that the municipality would probably be ultimately responsible to cover the debts.

If a deficit problem arose, the club might be tempted to rent its facilities for carnivals and weddings and possibly undercut the arena's rates to get the business, Bannon suggested.

"We could suffer a great loss," Bannon told council.

But Pritchard assured Bannon the curling club had agreed not to compete with the arena's facilities.

"The way Doug said it is the way I heard it too," clerk Elinor Burke told Bannon.

Reeve Lloyd Walker suggested the curling club members, Garbutt and Saunders, should be invited to the next council meeting with a recreation committee member to ensure the former agreement will be a policy.

Bannon also said problems created by the two facilities using the parking lot will have to be ironed out.

Council's next meeting is scheduled for February 11.

County soon to have resident social worker

Haliburton County will soon have its own social worker living and working within the area communities, according to the children's aid society.

Until now a social worker had to be dispatched from Peterborough if a family or an individual needed help in the Haliburton area.

With money from the Ministry of Community and Social Services, a business manager and a Haliburton County social worker will be hired by the society, the Haliburton County Social Planning Council learned last Thursday at a meeting organized to discuss available children's services.

Children's aid representatives told the council that the social worker will live and work in the area. The society will be looking for a person with good background in education and experience as well as an ability to work in the community as a whole.

The position will be advertised before hiring takes place, the society said.

Eakins seeks Liberals nod

It will be Eakins' fifth provincial election and his second try at retaining the seat he won 5½ years ago after losing in two previous campaigns.

In announcing his candidacy, Eakins said that during the years he has represented the riding at Queen's Park, he has "worked long and hard to be an effective liaison" between the people and the provincial government.

"As a result, he said "more people than ever feel they can be a part of the process of government, and that their needs will be represented."

The economy will be the key issue in the upcoming election, according to Eakins.

"All studies, including one by the economic council of Canada, place Ontario in tenth and last place among provinces in terms of economic growth," he said.

During the campaign, Eakins said, he will be presenting his views "for an industrial strategy for Ontario which must not only centre on manufacturing, but also include agriculture and tourism."

Eakins said the election will allow voters "the one opportunity to hold the present government accountable for its performance, not its promises."

The Liberal nomination meeting for the riding will be held Wednesday, February 18 at the Royal Canadian Legion in Lindsay.

To date, only one candidate has indicated he will try for the Conservative nomination in the riding.

David Murray, 52, who is currently reeve of Fenelon Township, announced two weeks ago that he would seek the position.

He then answered questions from members.

SHOCK TALK

Ice storms, high winds or fallen tree limbs can bring hydro lines down. And even a fallen wire that seems dead can be dangerous.

So don't go near the wires, warn others not to and report the fallen wires to your local hydro or the police as soon as possible.

If a line falls across your vehicle, stay inside until a hydro crew removes the line. If there's a live power line touching your car, putting even one foot on the ground can be a fatal move to make.

Electrical safety is no shock to you.

Pergolas wants roads garage inventory

In a council session that came close to erupting, councillor Ed Pergolas pushed the road superintendent for a complete inventory of the Anson, Hindon and Minden roads department's stock, last Wednesday night.

Problems arose at an earlier meeting when Pergolas questioned Earl Kent on the purchase of a 45 gallon drum of de-greasing solution costing over $500. Kent had explained to Pergolas at the time that the solution would last for many years, as do most of the chemical solutions stored at the municipal garage.

To lend strength to his argument, Kent pointed out that many of the barrels stored at the garage were purchased by the previous road superintendent and still contained useable solutions. Pergolas then asked Kent for an inventory of what solutions were stored at the garage in the 45-gallon drums.

Before last week's council meeting Kent submitted a report naming seven solutions and two empty drums, accounting for nine of the barrels. However, Pergolas and another councillor, Larry Cummins, had visited the garage before the meeting and had counted 13 45-gallon drums.

Kent told council he could easily have missed some of the barrels in his count and would be willing to make another report on the contents of the department's barrels.

But Pergolas said council deserved to have a complete inventory of everything in the garage, so it would know what was in stock.

"I can take two or three men for two weeks and count all the nuts and bolts if you like," Kent said in response to Pergolas' statements.

Pergolas countered that it would not take that many men or that length of time to complete a satisfactory inventory and that every nut and bolt did not have to be counted.

However, Kent reacted strongly to the scrutiny his department was coming under. "I just wonder where it all comes from," he said to Pergolas.

"It comes from your list (road accounts) every month. When you start getting barrels costing over $500, you start wondering what you're buying," Pergolas said.

Again, Pergolas stated he would like to see a complete inventory of the roads department's belongings.

"We should know what our assets are," he told the rest of council.

Councillor Lyle McKnight agreed with Pergolas, but added that inventories should be made in all departments as well as the road department.

"I think if we're going to get one, we should get one (inventory) from everyone," McKnight said.

Clerk Elinor Burke told council an annual submission was usually made from all departments but it had not been updated for the current year.

Builder apologizes over confusion, caulking of corners now complete

A temporary system apparently caused confusion regarding the heating of the new Minden library, according to the builder Ron Wrightman.

At an earlier meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council, Wrightman told council his factory-made log structure might not be as fuel-efficient as he had suggested in his tender presentation because the proper heaters had not been installed in the new centre.

However, after Wrightman left the meeting, deputy-revee Doug Pritchard checked the heaters during his lunch-hour and reported the proper heaters were in the building.

In a letter to council read at last week's regular meeting, Wrightman apologized for the misunderstanding.

"Please be advised that in regards to the discussion of the thermostats referred to in the local newspapers, the thermostats were installed the morning of the council meeting. I had no knowledge of this (installation) as the electrician was not on the job the previous day for a discussion...again I apologize for the confusion regarding the heaters with manual, individually mounted thermostats which were appar-

Minden to meet MTC to discuss problems

Minden council is on its way to getting improved paving for the town's entrances off of Highway 35.

At the regular council meeting last Wednesday, councillor Ed Pergolas gave council a presentation accompanied by pictures of the present signing along the highway by-pass.

He stated the signs were confusing and didn't entice tourists to travel through the town.

At the meeting municipal law enforcement officer, Dick Schell, presented council with a draft by-law which would regulate signs in the townships.

To discuss the matter further, council will be meeting with Ministry of Transportation and Communications representatives at its next meeting, February 11.

Council takes first step to establish BIA management

Minden council took its first concrete steps towards establishing a business improvement area by forming a board of management to govern the town's businessmen's interest.

A by-law to establish the board was passed at the regular meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden last Wednesday, although no representatives were appointed.

The board will be made up of seven members with one representative from council. As specified in the Ontario Municipal Board decision handed down more than a month ago, equal representation will be given to both factions, for and against the improvement area.

A mild day also allowed his workers to caulk all the outside corners and install pine inserts on all inside and outside corners, Wrightman informed council.

The two front logs were sealed on the same day since ice and snow could be removed, and the inside corners will be completely caulked when the inside walls are complete, Wrightman said.

business and especially your store windows. By doing this you are playing a big part in the carnival by making people aware of the fact that the big affair is not too far away.

Let's make participation the key word in this year's big winter event and if you have the opportunity please participate as much as possible in the events which will be held during these three big days. The success of this carnival will depend largely on the input of everyone who will be attending. Let's make it a great success.

One event that I would personally like to see enlarged upon this year is the Ice Sculpture which in past years has left a great deal to be desired. Lack of participation in this event seems to have been the main problem. The various schools in town usually do a good job in this regard but the home owners seem to lack the interest that it takes to construct a good ice sculpture.

This year with the cool weather we have been having along with the heavy snowfall should present perfect conditions for this year's carnival. There should be no excuses handed out if an outdoor event is not successful.

The overall operation of a carnival of this size takes a great deal of time and money. If you have not already given a donation please do so today and if you can give some free time please contact any member of the Rotary Club.

Look for me next week in this column when I will endeavour to keep you up-to-date on what's new for the 1981 edition of the Haliburton Winter Carnival.

'Who owns building?' society asks

The Minden agricultural society is willing to buy a cement block building on the fair grounds if it could only figure out who the owner is.

Although both Anson, Hindon and Minden council and agricultural society president Jerry Pilsworth agreed at an earlier meeting the curling club owned the building, a phone call from a former township clerk sent them all wondering again.

At its regular meeting last Wednesday, council heard that former clerk, Richard Parisotto had telephoned Pilsworth after reading the story on the earlier discussion in the newspaper.

According to Pilsworth, Parisotto, who was clerk when the municipality purchased the fair grounds from the society, said the curling club was included in the purchase with the only exception being the club's equipment.

In this event, Pilsworth said the cement block building the club is trying to sell to the society actually belongs to the municipality.

After hearing of the conversation, clerk Elinor Burke produced the deed which stated that the land, buildings and fixtures had been purchased by the municipality.

If an agreement can be reached once ownership is established, the agricultural society may purchase the building from the municipality and the municipality would in turn donate a similar amount to the curling club since the club erected the building in the beginning.

The three groups will be discussing the matter further.

Wintario to retain 50/50 split

John Eakins, M.P.P. (Victoria-Haliburton) said the Ministry of Culture and Recreation has responded to his urging that the smaller communities of Eastern Ontario be given every advantage in any new Wintario capital funding announcements.

There had been some speculation that local groups seeking capital funding would be required to raise two-thirds of the funding. Eakins submitted to the minister his feeling that this possibility would place many smaller communities in Victoria and Haliburton at a great disadvantage.

As a result of the new announcement, applicants in Eastern and Northern Ontario will be assisted on a 50/50 basis. Other areas of Ontario will be required to raise two-thirds of the capital funding.

"I want to commend the volunteer spirit of my constituents for their initiative in providing much needed focal points for all citizens of their communities," Eakins said. Wintario capital submissions should be prepared and submitted between April 1, 1981 and September 30, 1981, with funding available April 1, 1982. These dates will be confirmed in the very near future.

The wrong approach

Anson, Hindon and Minden council should take a hard look at its stated intentions to appeal an Ontario Municipal Board decision which called for a reduction in the number of lots in a proposed subdivision on Minden Lake. For not only will the appeal process create headaches for council, costing time, if not money that might be better spent in other ways; it will also cause more than a few citizens to ask tough questions about why council is backing a developer instead of its ratepayers.

The subdivision was to have contained up to 33 lots, with 31 of them to be built upon. But ratepayers on the lake banded together to protest, claiming the subdivision was simply too large for so small a body of water (it is in fact a dammed up river). They wanted the subdivision cut in half. A counter proposal from the developer would have split the difference, creating in the order of 25 lots. The ratepayers would have none of it, however, and took the matter to the OMB. The decision of the board, which was handed down January 14, supported the ratepayers' arguments and ruled that the subdivision should contain only 17 lots. Now, council has said that it will try to seek another compromise between the developer and the ratepayers, and that if the effort fails, it will appeal the OMB decision.

The reasons for council's stand appear to be two-fold. It wants development to boost its tax base and the local economy. And it does not want to see a ruling against its zoning by-law go unchallenged.

But the stand is wrong-headed on both counts. If 17 lots are all that the lake, and its environment can tolerate then so be it. Development is important to be sure, but it must be done carefully, with due regard for the human as well as the economic factors involved. The ratepayers think 17 lots are all that should be allowed on the property, the OMB agrees, and there the matter should rest.

As for the zoning by-law, it is simply outdated. It may have been adequate when it was passed in 1967, but the OMB's ruling against a subdivision that was developed according to the by-law's provisions indicates that the by-law needs to be reworked. Council appears to feel that if it wins an appeal of the OMB decision, its outdated by-law will be given new life. But considering the history of OMB hearings in the township, no developer is likely to risk basing a new subdivision on the old by-law's provisions, even if the appeal were upheld (a remote possibility at best).

If council truly wants to see development in the townships that both respects the fragility of the environment and proceeds as smoothly as possible, it should direct its efforts toward revamping its 14-year-old zoning by-law. Time and money spent on the project would prove infinitely more valuable than a host of appeals.

Testing the texts

The serpent of censorship hasn't yet reared its venomous head in Haliburton County but if it does, the Haliburton County Board of Education has devised a policy it hopes will help to tame the beast. At a meeting last Wednesday, the board approved a text book policy that among other things, provides for a 10 person committee to review any text books that are questioned by parents or trustees.

So far Haliburton County has escaped the problems that have plagued many other areas of the province where small groups of zealous individuals have sought to force their morality on others. Frequently boards of education have ruled to ban books when faced with such pressure, even though many of those involved in the dispute, including trustees, had not read the texts in question or found out how and why the books were taught.

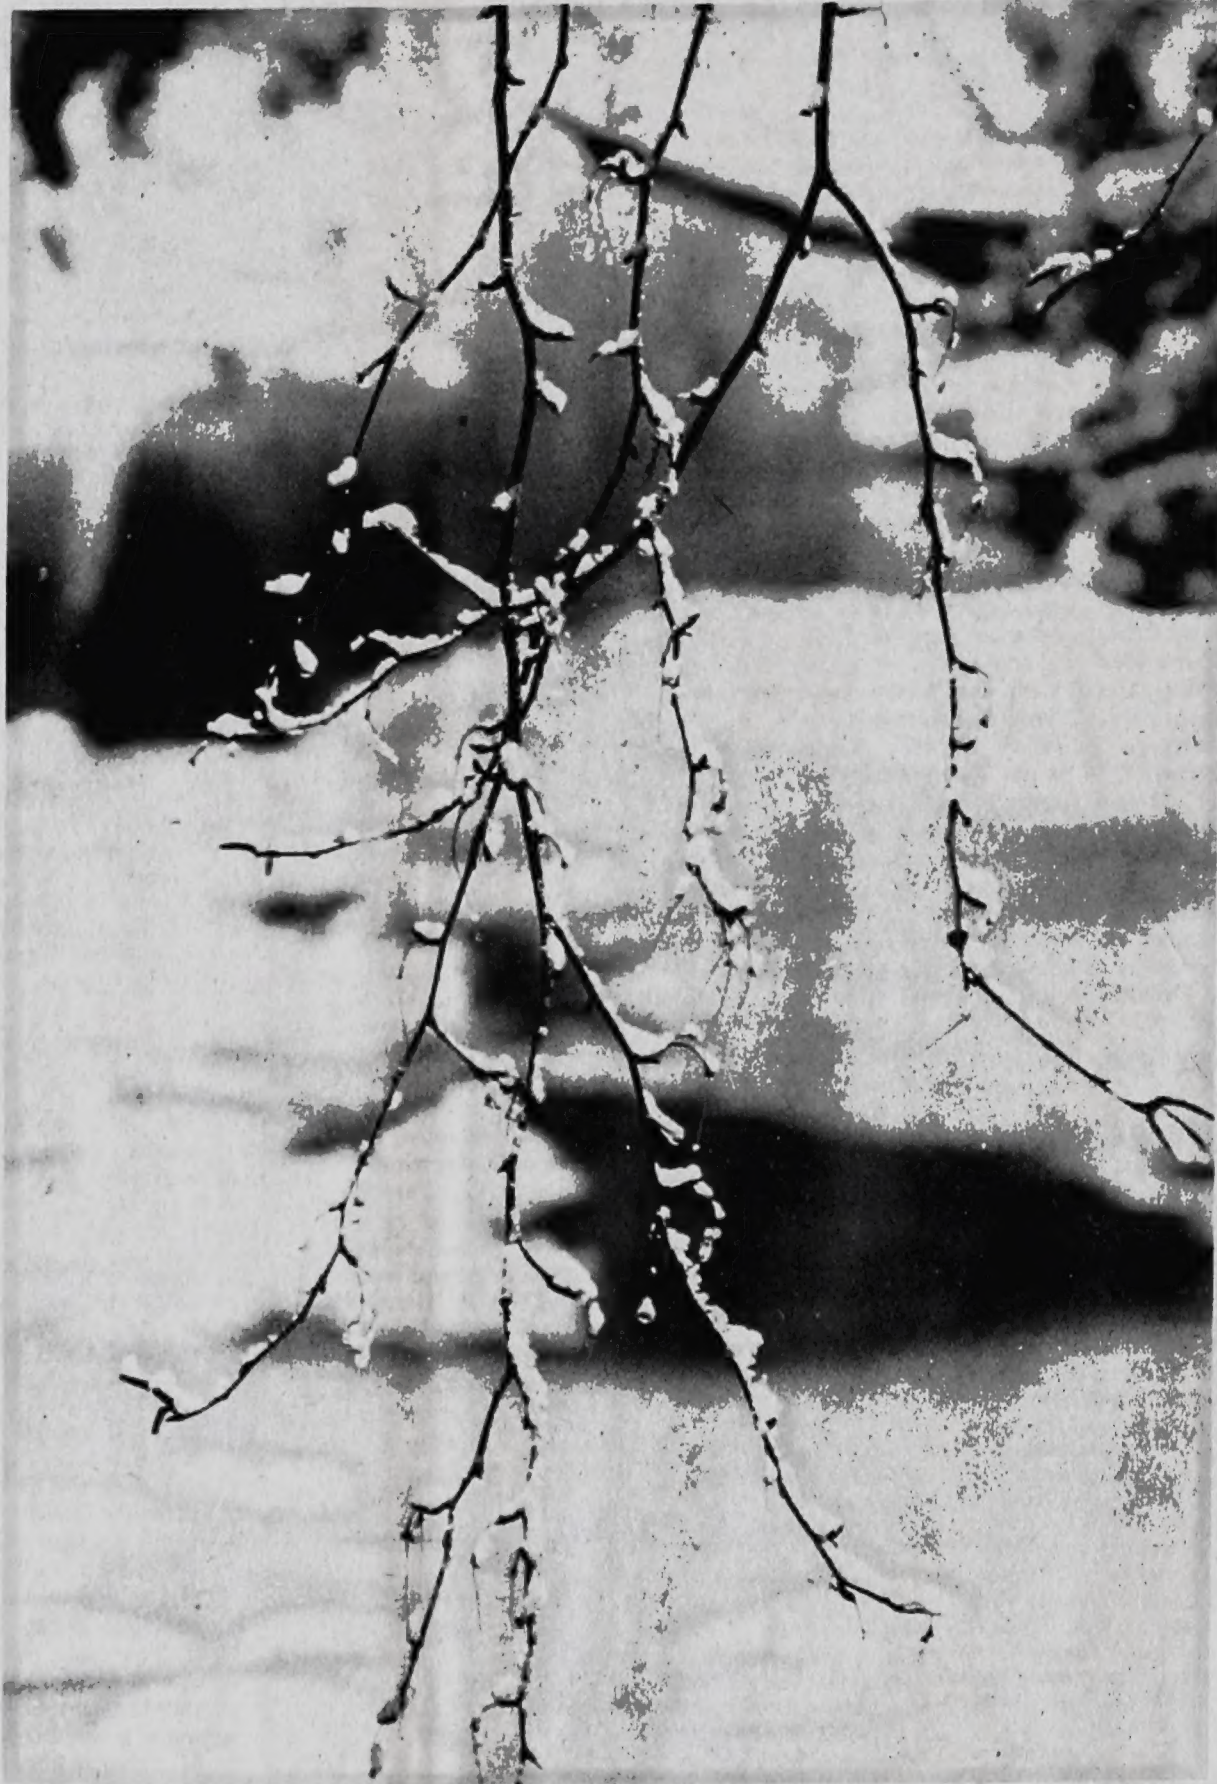

The policy struck by the board last week should ensure that doesn't happen here. If a book is questioned, a committee consisting of trustees, teachers, a school principal and members of the public, will read it, discuss it, and ultimately recommend to the board whether the book should remain in the schools or be struck from the list of approved texts.

It's a sensible provision, but it is also one that should never have to be used.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

The Haliburton Huskies hockey season is over. They played their last league game with Gravenhurst Saturday night and have been eliminated from playoffs.

However, for two young men it was an eventful evening and something to be proud of -- they were presented with the memorial trophies for best defenceman and best forward of the team. It is too bad their presentation pictures will not appear in this paper in recognition. Upon inquiry, I was told the paper was notified of the time for this ceremony and it was stated someone would attend however no photographer showed up.

This just further exemplifies the support the Huskies received all year.

I would like to extend my personal congratulations to Kevin O'Hara and Ron Yake for a good season.

A fan who attended,

Echo staff reporter Sue Cooper, who was also assigned to cover the Old Timer's game at the Minden carnival Saturday evening, made a special trip to Haliburton in order to get pictures of the two players on the Huskies who were to receive trophies at Saturday's game. She arrived in the middle of the second period, stayed to the end of the game and at that time attempted to arrange a picture of the two players with their awards. Her request for cooperation from Huskies management was met with indifference, and hence she was unable to arrange for pictures.

Chamber manager Bob Stinson's reaction to the suggestions I made in this column last week (see his column on the next page) makes it clear that the purpose of my statements (and the very real concerns which lay behind them) have been missed. This newspaper has not been in the past, nor will it be in the future, out to 'get' anyone or anything in Haliburton County. It will not fall prey to pettiness, be motivated by vindictiveness or be written for the simple purpose of damning. It will however, continue to criticize when it believes improvements can and should be made, whether that criticism is directed at politicians, political bodies or public problems.

It is precisely because this newspaper is willing to speak out on local issues that it plays an essential role not only in the community but in the society of which it, and the people who read it, form a small but significant part.

I have said it before in this column but I do not hesitate to say it again: the newspaper's editorial role is first of all to present the facts as objectively as possible in its news columns and secondly, to comment on whatever facts it feels should be of particular interest to the people of the community. In commenting on events, be they political or social, the newspaper tries above all, to put forward a reasoned and reasonable point of view. That point of view, whether it is expressed in the editorials, in this column or in the column written by Creighton Feir, is not the truth in the way that the facts of a council meeting are true. It is rather, an opinion based on one person's interpretation of the facts at hand. As such it is open to question, comment and rejection by every individual who reads the newspaper. And that is precisely why editorials and columns are every bit as important as accurate reporting of news stories. Editorials

(and sometimes, columns) are a starting point for discussion, one person's view laid open for analysis, one voice that should be answered by many others.

The vast majority of community newspapers write editorials on provincial and federal matters at least as often as they address local issues. We do not, not because we are unaware of or uninterested in political matters outside the county, but because I believe that to write editorials about provincial and federal matters is simply a cop-out. It is much tougher to write honestly and fearlessly about what goes on locally because local events involve local people; the same people we can't avoid seeing on the streets or in the grocery store. In forcing myself to write editorials that deal only with local subjects, I, and the newspaper, risk the ire of advertisers, the disdain of readers, the wrath of politicians. We put our necks on the block and there are many people who are more than willing to wield a verbal axe, (although more often than not they do so out of earshot). But we will continue to do so, because we believe, quite simply, that we must.

When I put forward some suggestions about what the Chamber might do to improve its marketing program, I did not expect to be told I was entirely right. Indeed, I did not believe that what I said represented the definitive analysis either of what might be wrong with the Chamber's marketing program or of how it could be improved. Yet the ideas were there for all to consider, and if they wanted to do so, to reject.

If we do not recognize problems, we do not find solutions.

The Greek philosopher Plato once said that the unexamined life is not worth living. It might also be said that the unexamined Chamber is not worth having.

Snowmobiler riders from all parts of Haliburton County accompanied by riders from other centres will be heading for Minden and Haliburton this coming Saturday morning, February 7th to take part in Whipper Watson's Snowarama ride for Timmy which is being sponsored locally by the Rotary Clubs of Minden and Haliburton. In the Minden area the riders will start from the Minden Community Centre and in Haliburton the riders will start at the Haliburton High School. At both places the starting time will be between 7:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. Proceeds will be used to assist in the ongoing work of the Ontario Society for Disabled Children and pledge sheets are still available at most stores in the area. Following the day's ride the Rotary Club of Minden will be sponsoring a dance at the Minden Community Centre at 9:00 p.m. Admission is free to those who will be participating in the ride. Snowmobile enthusiasts wait all year long to participate in this big event and even if you don't ride, you can still go the distance for Timmy. Sponsor a rider, ride yourself. Fuel supplied courtesy of Imperial Oil through Giles Connelly of Haliburton, Gulf Oil through John Francis Fuels, Minden and Red Devil Oil. Our sincere thanks to these three companies who are making such a large contribution to Snowarama.

Many people from other centres in Ontario move into Haliburton County to take up residence here. Many who are financially well off come here to retire. This is a great idea for these people and we welcome them with open arms. The people that we really feel sorry for are those who move in possibly from the big city in anticipation of getting away from the rat race. When they arrive here they have great hopes of making a living in our fair county, but after they have been here a year or so, they realize that their dreams of a great future here, are not exactly what they had expected. Many find to their dismay that there is just not the work here to keep them employed all year round. These same people, unfortunately, are forced to move back again to the city or from whatever centre they came from, to get work. It all boils down to the old story that we must always be on the lookout for light industry that would like to locate here. Let's face it, people who were born and raised here in many cases, must leave their own particular community to seek employment elsewhere. Through all of this the local Chamber of Commerce are always trying to tell us how rosy things are here. I often wonder what kind of a dream world they have been living in for the past number of years. It's just about time that they woke up and stopped trying to make excuses to justify their existence.

We have just been informed that Dorothy F. Barrass was unanimously chosen as the local director of the Kawartha-Haliburton Children's Aid Society at their regular meeting held at Peterborough on Tuesday, January 27th.

Carol Douglas of the Highlands Little Theatre was a recent guest speaker at one of the Rotary Club of Haliburton's meetings. She brought the members up to date on some of the good times, problems and dreams of the theatre group. Some of the problems seem to be lack of men coming forward to join the theatre group and she urged the Rotary members to give some thought to being actors in the plays. Another problem seems to be the fact that the local high school auditorium is not what you would call the best place to present the plays. There are plenty of good times connected with the plays when the local group get together for dress rehearsal and the anticipation of opening night. Carol went on to say that the Highlands Little Theatre group have a dream of some day owning their own theatre with a proper stage and comfortable seats. I personally agree that everyone should have a dream and I hope that some day their dream will come true.

One has to stop and wonder just how far they are going to let this lucky draw business go. As far as I am concerned it's got right out of hand. Most of the organizations in Haliburton County seem to be of the opinion that the only way to raise money is to have a draw. There seems to be so many draws that a large number of our population are really getting turned off as it seems that everytime you turn around, someone is trying to sell you a ticket on this or that. There are many other ways to raise money without holding a draw, but for many this seems to be the easy way out. I often wonder whatever happened to the days when organizations raised money for their projects without taking the easy way out and having a draw. As we have said before there are many other ways to raise money and we hope that some of the local groups will put them into practice.

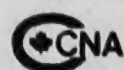

The Times newspaper sponsored a free afternoon of public skating recently at the Minden Community Centre. Over 200 area residents put on the blades for an afternoon of good healthy exercise and good clean fun. It's good to see so many getting out and skating. On the subject of public skating we would like to remind everyone that there is public skating most Sunday afternoons at the Haliburton arena. There still seems to be quite an interest in public skating.

The Haliburton and District Lions Club are holding a Valentine dance on Saturday, February 14, 1981 at 8:30 p.m. at the West Guilford Community Centre with music being supplied by a live band. The admission price is only $7.00 per couple and a large turnout is expected for this event.

Congratulations to Bernie Nicholls who is having an outstanding season with the Kingston Canadians. Last week he was voted the player of the week in the Major Junior "A" hockey league. He should be a sure bet for the National Hockey League.

Queen's Park Report

by MPP John Eakins

Undoubtedly the state of Ontario's economy is going to be a major issue in the forthcoming provincial election, and this would seem to be an appropriate time to mention some up-to-date facts in this connection.

Unemployment is of considerable concern to us all, of course. In December 1980, 87% of the increase in Canada's unemployment occurred in Ontario. The term "youth unemployment" is used when referring to people between the ages of 15 and 24. Of this group, some 117,000 were unemployed in December. This was a 7,000 increase over the previous month, and - coincidentally - a 7,000 increase over December, 1979.

The situation with respect to permanent and indefinite layoffs is another indication of the seriousness of the employment picture in this province. Some 27,910 workers were placed on permanent or indefinite layoff during the first eleven months of 1980.

Ontario's budgetary position is also cause for considerable concern. According to the most recent Ontario Finances report, dated September 30, 1980, Ontario's budgetary deficit had risen 23 per cent in six months. The mini-budget of November 13, 1980, pushed net cash requirements to $1.059 billion, an increase of 81 per cent over the final results for 1979/80. Interest on the public debt stands at $4.4 million per day, compared to $982,000 per day in 1971.

Another economic factor which cannot be overlooked is the number of bankruptcies which have occurred. Over the past ten years, business bankruptcies in Ontario have tripled (personal bankruptcies have increased tenfold). In 1979, there were 10,500 bankruptcies in this province.

In its latest provincial forecast, dated October 28, 1980, the Conference Board in Canada predicted that "Ontario will bear the brunt of the 1980 economic slowdown. Real output in the province is forecast to decline by 1.6 per cent this year and to remain below 1979 production levels through most of 1981...softness in labour markets will restrain provincial average wage growth below that of the national average pace."

In 1977, for the first time, Ontario qualified for equalization payments from the federal government as a have-not province. Under the formula, before recent federal amendments to ensure that Ontario would never receive payments, Ontario was entitled to $800 million at the end of 1980. While one of the reasons Ontario has become a have-not is the growth in provincial oil and gas revenues in Western Canada, equally important is the slow growth in revenues from Ontario's traditional tax sources - personal and corporate income tax.

Between January and June 1980, 15,744 Ontarians left this province for Western Canada. On an annualized basis, this means a projected loss for 1980 of over 31,000 people from Ontario to the West.

Bill Smiley

Boy, she's been some mother of a winter this time around, in these places. Six feet of snow before Christmas, three or four feet since, and temperatures that would freeze the brains of a brass monkey.

A constant struggle with snow in the driveway, snow on the sidewalk, snow piling deep on the roof and turning into icicles like tree-trunks, and, worst of all, snow coming in over the tops of your boots and turning your feet into something like submarines around Iceland.

Typical day this week. A guy was coming at 8 a.m. to whack the ice off my roof. That usually costs about fifty bucks, plus the shingles he removes with the ice.

I asked him if he had some battery booster cables, as I knew my car wouldn't start in the morning. I'd tried it the day before. He had cables. Goody. Two birds with one stone.

Next morning, I waited until twenty to nine. He didn't show. It was below 24, and I mean Fahrenheit. Tried the car while I was waiting. Not even a grunt.

Knew there wasn't a hope of getting a cab in that weather. Called the garage and whimpered for help. "Sure, Bill. Maybe in about two hours. There are forty thousand cars non-starting, all over the county."

I abandoned hope, like all who enter this country in this kind of weather, and phoned a neighbour, blatantly, and without shame, asking for a ride to work. He played Good Samaritan, and I made it to the job with about forty seconds to spare. I'm not that conscientious, but dammit, I can get just as stubborn as Old Man Winter.

Immediately phoned the garage and told them not to send help until later in the day, when I'd be home to flood the carburetor, reverse when I was supposed to put her in drive, get stuck in a snow-bank just after the tow truck had left, and all the other things people do that drive mechanics crazy. Fine. My wife was in bed, ill, and I'd told her not to worry about the iceman coming or the thunderous crashes as the icicles came down like Douglas firs.

Just twenty minutes after I'd got to work, the iceman came, rang the doorbell, and kept her standing in the frigid air in her dressing gown while he discussed a price for the job. It seemed his car would not start either, thus his late appearance. She thought I'd arranged a price for the job.

Finally, in exhaustion, desperation, and danger of losing some toes from frostbite, she told him to go ahead with the job, at the price (fairly exorbitant) that he suggested. He said he'd be back in a few minutes. She thought he'd gone with his truck for extension ladder, axe, and other implements for knocking off shingles, as well as ice. We haven't seen him since.

She tottered back to bed, and was barely warming up, when the doorbell rang again. Once more into the breach, bless her indomitable spirit and her rage at me about the iceman. This time it was a nice young fellow from the garage, with the tow truck.

There had been a breakdown in communication, and he hadn't received the word to come later in the day, when I was home to flood the engine, etc.

All he wanted was some keys for the car, and instructions on whether to just get the dang thing running, or to tow it away for a check-up. I had the keys at work.

Another doorway encounter, with the temperature 'way below zero, her feet turning blue, and her near-pneumonia on the verge of turning into double-pneumonia.

The only thing that kept her going was the increasing heat of her fury at me for not organizing anything except two young men who were forcing her to make decisions when she had scarcely enough strength to decide whether to go to the bathroom or just curl up and die.

Again, she rose to the occasion, found another set of keys and told him to do whatever he wanted, though she felt like adding a few other suggestions. Naturally, he towed it away. Know what they rap you for a towing charge these days? I can't bear to mention the figure.

By this time, in her weakened condition, she couldn't even go back to bed, she was

Eakins wants change

John Eakins, M.P.P. (Victoria-Haliburton), has urged Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow to move quickly to bring in amendments to the Highway Traffic Act to restore classified licences to those whose health has improved and which medical evidence supports.

Eakins wrote to the minister on behalf of a constituent whose licence had been downgraded because of a history of heart disease. Since the individual has had a heart by-pass operation, his health is better than previously, but his licence classification has not been restored.

"I am confident that the necessary regulatory and administrative changes will be made in the very near future and many people who have suffered economically will have an opportunity to apply to have their driving status restored," Eakins said. "Many people who have restored health because of the operation are no greater risk than those who do not know of their condition."

The Chamber & C.O.T.A. - "Partners for Progress"

Laying aside some of our differences over the past number of years our Chamber has now found a formula that should work not only for us, but the other organizations that represent tourism in specific regions throughout the Central Ontario region. Based on a presentation proposed by our Chamber, C.O.T.A. has adopted a membership policy which allows us to consider them partners and avoid the past feelings of being threatened by this large body with access to government funding.

According to the new plan, we will now purchase memberships in C.O.T.A. for all of our members that are related to the tourist industry. In addition to paying a base membership of $200 for the Chamber we will pay $7.00 from our members' fees to C.O.T.A. for a membership for them, and $50.00 on behalf of tourist associations such as the Lake Kawagawigamog group. We will also pay a $200.00 fee for our county's membership. All members so designated will be provided with all membership services including a listing in the annual C.O.T.A. publication.

If for any reason someone wished to join C.O.T.A. directly without going through our Chamber they have that option at a rate of $50.00 (for up to 10 employees) and up.

It is hoped that the thrust of C.O.T.A. will be to handle the heavy media advertising and continue to generate inquiries which we can follow up on with our own area advertising and brochures. We look forward to a much improved working relationship and feel sure that our members will reap new benefits from this "Partnership for Progress".

Huntsville Interested in our Programs"

Of late there has been much said about what the Chamber should or should not be doing. Much of it is said in a way that suggests the Chamber is some outside body forcing some individual viewpoint on our local scene. The fact is the Chamber is you - members and citizens of Haliburton County. What it does is the end result of a volunteer board of directors decision based on what they feel you want, and the available resources to do it with. If you don't agree, you may be part of the problem. Maybe you're not communicating your ideas and priorities to the directors well enough.

We are indeed fortunate that we do have a viable Chamber of Commerce here to make use of. Outside our area we are viewed with some envy by some areas that are not satisfied with what is available to them. Last week a director of the Huntsville Chamber of Commerce called and asked for our "success story". They had looked over some of our publications, talked to some of our members and wanted to know how we do it. The following is our reply:

Mrs. Dorothy Lake,
Huntsville Motor Court,
Box 2191,
Huntsville, Ontario POA 1K0

Dear Mrs. Lake:

Thank you for your call requesting some details on our "successful" operation. I don't want to mislead you that everything is peaches and cream here for our Chamber so I have included along with the other documents a copy of a recent newspaper column which tends to be rather critical of the Chamber. When recognition is so difficult to attain here at home it is certainly encouraging to receive it from our neighbours.

Enclosed is our budget for the past year, a copy of our current marketing plan and some of our current brochures and literature.

Our Chamber is a county-wide organization, the only county-wide Chamber of Commerce in Ontario. It was originally a tourist association and it became a Chamber in 1964. With that background we have always had a strong involvement in promoting tourism and are alternately criticized for either "being concerned with nothing else", or becoming involved in "other issues when we should be busy promoting tourism".

I have included copies of our publications over the past few years so that you can see the progress we have made towards a more effective promotional presentation. The 1981 promotional campaign which is now at the printers was a very ambitious project but we have been successful in

Peterborough man wins local tourney

Local squash players got a chance to test their skills against top players from Lindsay, Peterborough and Belleville over the weekend as the Highlands Squash Club held its first annual regional men's "D" tournament, dubbed Squash and Ski.

A total of 29 players took part in the three-day tournament, which wound up Sunday morning.

In the championship match Rod Johnston of Peterborough defeated Don Harriman, also of Peterborough, 3-0 to take championship honours and win top prize of a new racquet.

In the consolation final, Ken Cram of Belleville outpointed Peter Jackson, also of Belleville, to take the consolation prize of a Molson's sport bag.

A number of local players did well in the tournament losing close matches in the quarter final and semi-final rounds.

Derrell Stamp and Steve Roberts were eliminated in the semi-finals on the championship side.

Bob Woodcock, Gary Brohman and Tom Curry lost out in quarter final action on the championship side.

On the consolation side, Glen Carter and Frank Powers were eliminated in the quarter finals.

Along with squash, the weekend tournament featured a dinner and dance Saturday night and a cross country ski tour Sunday afternoon.

Rod Johnston, of Peterborough, was the winner of the annual squash and ski tournament at the Highlands Squash club over the weekend. Here he receives his prize, a racquet, from tournament organizer John Fitzgerald.

Along the trails

by Roy Bates

Reading the Signs

It is readily admitted that not all snowmobile trails are sufficiently signed as yet for the complete security and direction of snow travellers. And a recurring problem of sign pilfering makes it difficult for a club to keep on top of the situation. Nonetheless, it is imperative that snowmobilers learn to read and heed those signs that are seen along the trails.

Take no trespassing as an example. Under the revised Trespass to Property Act, it is required only to indicate by color code where no entry is permitted or where entry is permitted only to certain recreationists. The color red has long been used universally as a warning to stop. Property owners may now use a simple red marker, or splash of red paint, to redefine their boundaries across which the public may not pass. Yellow is commonly used as a caution signal and that color is adopted where selective use of private land is permitted. It should be noted here that the onus is on the traveller to determine which use, or uses, are in fact allowed.

In adapting to the act, some clubs have turned to the color yellow, or amber, as the basic background color for their snowmobile trail blazers. The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association is now marking trails with a six-inch metal sign, yellow, showing a snowmobile encircled in green. The club is identified by the initials H.C.S.A. Green being the color adopted as the permissive code, the sign is read as "entry permitted for the recreation of snowmobiling". And, unless otherwise indicated, such permission applies to the maintained trail only!

Where the yellow trail marker is accompanied by a red marker it is taken to mean "positively no trespassing off the trail area". Private trails may thus be marked in red.

Haliburton Midgets lose to Minden in well-played game

The Haliburton Midgets watched a 2-0 lead slip away last Tuesday in a hard-fought match against their counterparts from Minden.

In the opening minutes of the first period Haliburton appeared to be getting the upper hand, and in fact, they held on through two periods. But in the third period their scoring punch flagged and Minden swept ahead for the win.

Haliburton got on the board first when Dean Curry teamed up with Dave Nicholls at the 5:29 mark. Less than four minutes later, with Haliburton pressing the play, Curry and Nicholls again got together on a scoring drive to give Haliburton a 2-0 lead at 9:08.

Minden came back quickly however, as Andrew Sha-piera took a pass from Craig Coneybeare and put the puck into the Haliburton mesh to narrow the gap to one.

Just eight seconds after the face-off Dean Curry fed a pass to Dave Nicholls, who banged it into the Minden net to give Haliburton a two-goal lead again.

The advantage held until the final 30 seconds of the period when Minden's Eldon Bull was awarded a penalty shot and made it count, narrowing the gap to 3-2. Play tightened up considerably in the second period but Ivan Ingram managed to

Huskies Junior C hopes fade, coach resigns at season end

by Bill Davis

The Junior C season for the Haliburton Huskies came to a close Saturday night and with it comes the possibility of an end of an era for the Haliburton Huskies.

It has been a troubled year for the Huskies as they entered a new Junior "C" league after the old "D" league which they had competed in for years folded. In this league the Huskies were once all-Ontario champions.

With the new "C" league came tougher opposition but at the start of the season the Huskies played well, averaging .500 hockey. But some players quit hockey for no apparent reason leaving coach Larry Hartin and manager Don Lloyd the tough task of finding recruits for the team. On top of all this some players were away at school and had problems getting home for weekend games because of distance. Overall all the players who did play gave their best. Compounding the problem was lack of attendance at their games, added to the financial burden that comes with junior "C" hockey.

The resignation of Don Lloyd as manager and Larry Hartin as coach after the completion of Saturday's game will undoubtedly raise the question as to the future of junior hockey in Haliburton. These two gave freely of their time in an effort to keep junior hockey alive. Together with the players they did their utmost to provide the quality of hockey that will in time produce another championship team.

Haliburton needs junior hockey. Anyone graduating from Midget hockey in town will have to play in Minden under the present O.M.H.A. set up in town. Of course we could have a juvenile team but anyone who has seen juvenile competition will agree that the calibre of hockey played is mostly bush league. Club officials will have to sit down before the O.H.A.

convention in June and put a plan in motion to mold the young and willing hockey players available into a strong, competitive and above all a team of sportsmanship like characters that will once again do Haliburton County proud.

Getting back to last weekend, the Huskies dropped a 6-3 decision to Huntsville on Friday evening. Nicholls got two goals and Ron Yake added a single.

Colin Newell played a strong game for the Huskies who were outshot 44-19 in the game.

On Saturday evening at home the Huskies faced the league leading Gravenhurst Indians and played one of their best games of the season dropping an 11-7 verdict to the visitors. Roger Hicks led the way for Haliburton with two goals. Single markers came off the sticks of Nicholls, Chapman, O'Hara, Steve Smith, and Ron Yake.

Prior to the start of Saturday's game two awards were handed out to the Huskies. Kevin O'Hara won the Tim Oram memorial trophy as the best all round defenceman with the Huskies while Ron Yake won the Wilbert Bain Memorial, symbolic of the most valuable player to the team.

Out of town teams win, Minden in final

Teams from Baysville and North Oshawa were the winners in the Novice tournament at the Minden arena Saturday during the annual winter carnival.

Minden were the runners-up in the consolation round, taking home the Bill Porter Trophy and medallions for their efforts, while the Story Park squad from Oshawa were runners-up in the championship final and won the Kinsmen Trophy and medallions.

Baysville garnered top honours and received the Eric Coulter Memorial Trophy, while North Oshawa, the consolation winners, earned the Prentice Roads Trophy and medallions.

In opening round action, Minden remained scoreless in a 2-0 loss against Lakefield, Baysville took Otonabee 1-0, Story Park took Knox (Peterborough) 4-3, and St. Andrews (Peterborough) rolled over North Oshawa 5-0.

On the consolation side, Minden met Otonabee and squeaked out a victory after a

Tri-County splits weekend

Haliburton's Tri-County Atom team won one and lost one over the weekend to round out regular season play.

Saturday, Haliburton hosted Little Britain and came out on the low end of a 6-1 score.

Drew Bishop's goal with one minute and 17 seconds left capped a come from behind rally and lifted the Haliburton Bantams to a 4-3

Little Britain took a 2-0 lead in the first period, and stretched the margin to 4-0 in the second period before Charlie Franklin put the local squad on the board.

Little Britain tallied once more before the period ended and got another in the third to take the win.

The win left Little Britain in first place with a record of no losses while Haliburton finished the season in second spot.

On Sunday, Haliburton hosted Sunderland and came out on the winning end after a close fought game.

place. Brent Coltman, of Minden, won both the open liquid and open modified races.

Inside the Crow's Nest where many of the spectators were finding fun and frolic, the wrist wrestling competition was underway. In the men's 160 pounds and under category, Kevin Hunter was the winner; in the 160 to 200 pound class Brad Frazer took the cup and Jim Keetch won the 200 pound and over division.

In the women's open competition, Norma Goodger was the winner.

On Saturday night the Minden Monarch old timers of the '60's put on their skates but although they provided excellent entertainment they were beaten 13 - 5 by the Ennismore champions.

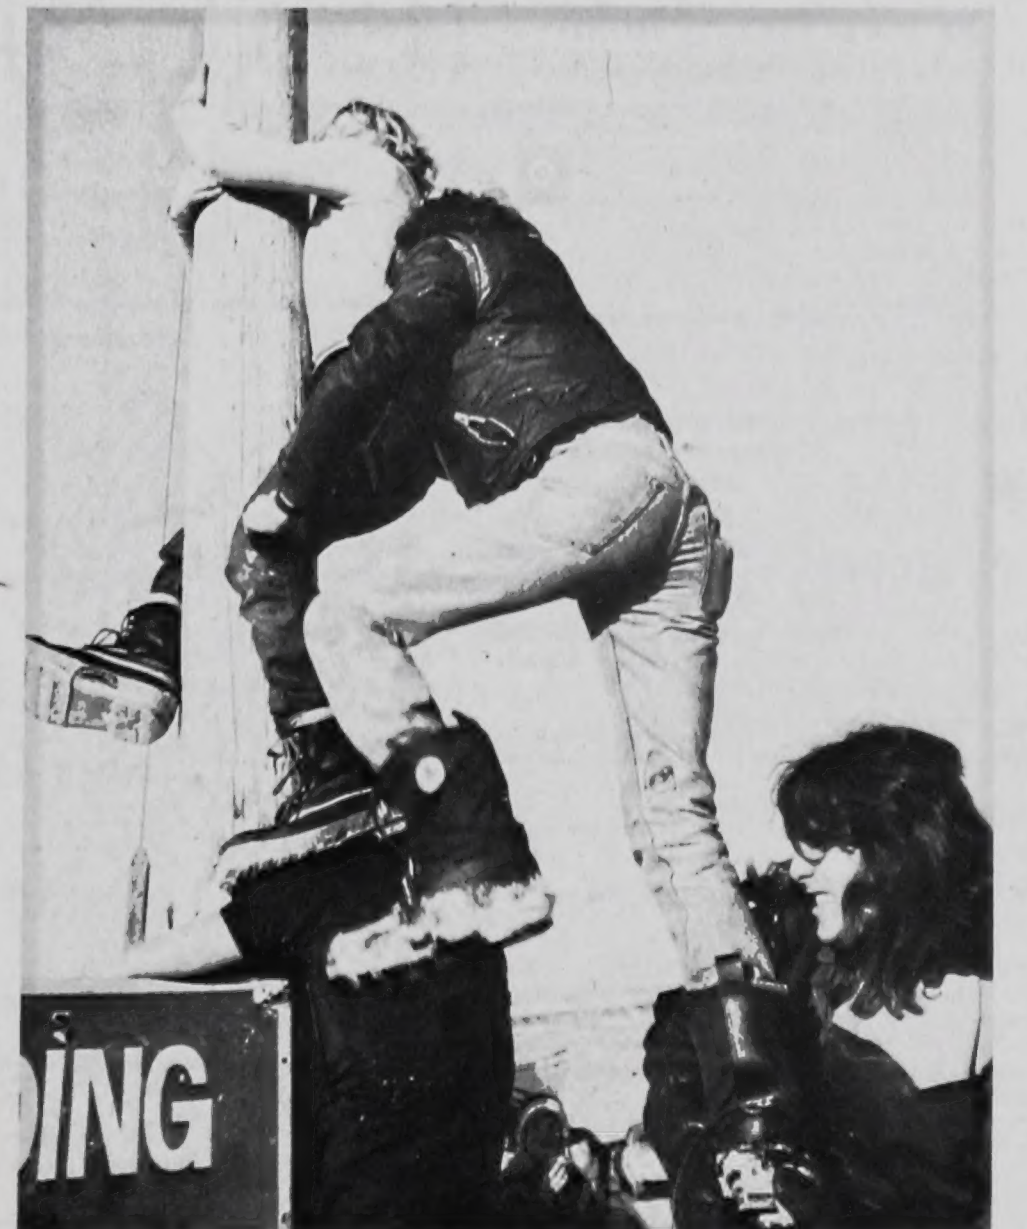

Early Sunday morning, broomball players started filtering in as five teams competed in a round robin tournament. The Townsend Steelers won the tournament with the Toronto Zoo team finishing second.

Although the weather was poor for spectating as a snow storm found its way to the carnival grounds, the snowmobile oval races continued as scheduled. Peter Connelly, of Haliburton won the 300 fan race and Steve Stewart won the 340, 440 and open free air races.

The Minden businessmen's challenge cup was presented by Barry Stewart of Minden Electric with honourable mentions going to Connelly, driving for Jadek Sports, Leroy Lichty, Brown Owl and Wayne Coltman, Shell Service Centre.

During the carnival, a draw was made to help the Italian earthquake victims with quilts being presented to Kathy McKelvey, of Minden, and Mr. Allan of Oshawa.

Results from the car races on ice and the Snowdeo were not available.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

Monday was really the first that it thawed appreciably and some said there was quite a shower during the night. The sun rose at 7:27 a.m. and set at 4:59 giving a day length of 9 hours and 32 minutes, 46 minutes longer than our shortest day of 8 hours and 46 minutes. The longest day, June 21, 1981, the sun rises at 4:13 and sets at 7:50 giving a day length of 15 hours and 37 minutes, the good old summer time.

Charlie Stormer was on the job today tutoring the young fry here in the art of making mug trees out of bits and pieces gathered here and there. Norman Titus, Ray Smith, Harold McKelvey, Walter Duffy, Allan Macklin and Jim Allan were the young hopefuls. These mug trees could conceivably remove the need for a towel, and the demand for them is expected to be considerable.

June Devolin conducted bible study Tuesday morning continuing to study the fruits of the Holy Spirit which after patience is kindness. To exemplify kindness she referred to the first two chapters of the Book of Ruth, a little known portion of the bible. By making sacrifices to her benefactor Ruth reaped abundant rewards and so if we cast the bread of kindness on the water it will return many fold.

Bingo was the order in the afternoon with Allan Macklin calling and a pleasant surprise to find three volunteer helpers - Betty Wise, Bernice Ross and Helen Archer, just like old times. Extra help always makes the game go much smoother and we all appreciate the help we get from time to time during the game.

Another pleasant surprise awaited us in the evening when Pat Burk showed us the movie version of Lucy Maud Montgomery, the author of Anne of Green Gables, a story based on Canada's Prince Edward Island as from 1890. It is the story of her life, a girl growing up as an orphan with all the pluses and minuses encountered. Prince Edward Island is a beautiful tiny province with very little land not under cultivation.

Monday evening on CHEX TV for some reason Front Page Challenge put on an amazing display of blasphemy. If Fred Davis, the host of his show, is unable to control such displays that program should fold. At any rate the blasphemy should be brought to justice, and if he is one of the panelists should be forbidden any further TV appearances. Just think of the widespread sound pollution and the harm it does for a so-called notable grown-up publicly degrades our heavenly Father in the hearing of children.

Wednesday was declared the monthly birthday party and there was no cake ready, an oversight, so Pat Burk rounded up - Maud Weston, Vivian Bowen, Flossie Burk, Hazel Parish, Lila Simmons, Allan Macklin, Christine McCrae and Elsie Porter, all of whom unanimously decided to make an orange cake. It only seemed a half hour and it was finished and baked. All strikers take note: in the afternoon we gathered to eat it but first Charles Plewman, Myrtle Millburn, Alice Hartle, Bob Berry, Charlie Rumbelow, Violet Lytle, Flora Walling and Stewart Roberts all declared their birthdays to be in the month of January and we were all in for a party M.C.'d by Pat Burk, Jan Shipley was a gracious pianist for our singing a multitude of the old favourites until the orange cake arrived, and between gulps of tea or juices we ate it. Eight extendicare residents are now a year older and we hope wiser.

Thursday noon on invitation we were bussed to the Dysart Community Centre to meet with the Haliburton senior citizens for a pot luck dinner. There was a splendid turnout, all with healthy appetites and in due time we heaped our plates at the buffet but not until at the request of Emil Neimann the club president, the Rev. Amos Brubacher said grace.

This meal was very good and our immediate company interesting. As usual the coffee was excellent. An interesting guest Ms. Marlis Lindsay representing New Horizons, a federal service with which all of us are now quite familiar, who is seeking to learn the pastime needs of seniors wherever they live in the form of various pursuits, local bus trips, facilities for carpentering, household and culinary arts, and horticulture. Appeals to supplement the New Horizons assistance are to be made in due time.

Later in the afternoon Marlis met the Happy Gang at extendicare to try to usher in a campaign to get what money we will need to add to the donation of Ann Barker about three weeks ago to get a suitable vehicle that can be used in this area for transporting groups of senior citizens when needed. Then the cost of winterizing and heating our storage shed was discussed briefly and Marlis suggested we try to combine our efforts with the horticultural society in Minden in which event we may qualify to join in a solar energy research project with a new building with solar panels and a heated greenhouse. An energy capacitor would be dug out, insulated to store enough heat for a week without sun. To that end Marlis will bring a solar heating expert with her at her next visit with us. This has been an interesting, busy, and exciting day for us. A suggestion that a wind power expert be brought in was greeted by much merriment as being snide. When we are serious we must decorate with a little fun.

Rev. John James, pastor of the Haliburton United Church, (our first meeting), was our sky pilot for the Friday morning devotional period. Rev. James came to Haliburton with the new year and already he is well-known and liked. Jan Shipley was the pianist for our singing. The theme was taken from Psalm 27, v. 1 - When evil men come to destroy me they will stumble and fall. God looks out for his own in many ways. Rev. James bided with us awhile for a snack of coffee or tea and cookies.

In the afternoon was a movie on the life of famous Grey Owl, an Englishman assuming the role of an Indian chief and hoaxing everyone, even each of his four wives, none of whom he divorced, at least not on record. First in his strange role he was a trapper, then turned about and became a conservator of wildlife. Surely he was a strange and exciting man.

While Doris McCann enjoys a well-earned holiday in the south, Ivan Hunter, first vice-chairman presided over the January meeting with the usual good attendance of board members, committee convenors, volunteers and enthusiastic supporters.

There was a discussion of ways to encourage people, who live alone, to have daily contact with someone on a regular basis. It is a good safety measure not just for seniors, but for anyone of any age or capability who is alone. It was suggested that this plan be called "Phone-a-Friend". If you are alone in your home, "phone a friend" and set up a suitable arrangement for your own safety. If we can assist anyone with following this plan contact us at 457-2941.

A letter was read from Alan Cavell, program supervisor at the Department of Community and Social Services which said that the development in the Haliburton County Home Support Services was most exceptional and that Marie Wallace was doing an excellent job as co-ordinator. The "Meals-on-Wheels" program is enlarging. Meals are now available in Wilberforce, as well as in Haliburton, Minden, Carnarvon and Ingoldsby/Lochlin area. Anyone requiring this kind of help in Wilberforce, call James Ross 448-2645. The service will be enlarged as the need arises. From April to the end of December last year, 1875 meals were delivered in the county.

Many people who cannot get out for dinner or a social time very often are enjoying the "Wheels-to-Meals" program. Sunny Rock Lodge, Locarno-On-The-Lake, Sir Sam's Inn, The Wagon Wheel have all welcomed these people and their volunteer drivers during 1980. Gelerd Gardens have shown an interest for 1981. Sunny Rock, for example, served meals on twenty-two occasions to an average of 37 folks each time. They had a Christmas dinner with Santa Claus and accordion music and a gala New Year's Eve party with hats, horns, hot pizzas and taris while cards were played, then a lovely buffet to bring in the new year, all for seniors, and all at a reasonable price.

The HCHSS office will be glad to hear of any other restaurants, inns, lodges who would like to provide such pleasant times to folks who really appreciate and need such attention.

The Hyland Crest Home in Minden have invited small groups of ten to make use of their facilities for dinner by pre-arrangement and for a reasonable price. Please call our office 457-2941 if you are interested.

A podiatrist (specialist in foot care) comes to Extendicare Nursing Home in Haliburton once every three months. He is willing to hold clinics in the county if there is a need. If anyone wishes to have this attention, call Extendicare and leave your name. If there are enough people, a clinic will be arranged. OHIP covers the fee except for a small portion.

The van is running in the West Guilford/Eagle Lake and Maple Lake districts on the second and last Thursday of each month. Phone Ev Stata 754-2204 if you want a day in town.

There will be an Income Tax Clinic on Friday, February 6 at the Legion in Haliburton from 9:30 a.m. - 12:00 noon. A representative from each community will attend to answer the questions and give help to seniors in their communities. The workshop is for all people in the county and is free.

Seniors requiring assistance in filling out forms may call us at 457-2941 - we have volunteers in each community to help you!

We started the week with our fun and fitness program. We had a lively session of kicking the ball and exercising to music. Later on the ladies enjoyed a couple of hours working on their craft projects. Several residents made their way to the auditorium to watch the movies on Monday evening. "Daylight in the Swamp", showed us the glory days of logging. A man by the name of Don McQuiere recalled his years working as a lumberman and explained how hard the work was. He explained how the oxen and horses were replaced by the road donkey which is now called a loader. This machine was equipped with a steel cable and ran by steam.

A 1912 Maxwell logging truck was the first Don had ever seen and declared it would never work in the bush, but of course, he was wrong. This was certainly an interesting movie and brought back some memories to some of our resident men, who made their living working in the bush.

Journey to the End of the Year was a beautiful movie of scenery and wildlife filmed in B.C. The residents thoroughly enjoyed their evening at the movies.

Tuesday morning, Rev. Trevor Denny of the Haliburton Anglican Church held an inspiring service in the chapel. Agnes Taylor was here to play the organ during the service.

In the afternoon, several people enjoyed a game of bingo in the main lounge. Later in the evening, Mr. Fred Ballard entertained us with some organ music for music night. It is always a pleasure to welcome Fred to our home.

Wednesday's games night was again a big success. This week the students were here from Haliburton high school. Everyone enjoyed themselves playing euchre, cribbage and crokinole.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of West Guilford A.C.W. brought an assortment of home-made goodies for the special birthday tea party.

Special guests of honour this month were Doris Vaughan, Herbert Shorter, and Hugh McEachern. The Glamorgan Senior Citizens Club met in the fire hall last Wednesday afternoon. At this meeting the group enjoyed a pot luck dinner which, as usual, was composed of tasty casseroles, home-made biscuits, and mouth-watering desserts. The 28 present included six friends from the Monmouth club as well as the United Church minister, Mr. Maurice Bradley, whom we were very happy to welcome. After a brief business period, the group played cards or chatted sociably.

Ice fishing seems to be a popular activity now. Craig Mintz was quite elated to catch his first fish, a 4 lb. trout in Stormy Lake recently.

Mrs. Sharon Sauve is to be congratulated, along with her helpers, on the success of the Girls' Club which now has a membership of 17. On Tuesday afternoon, September 3, a craft class had its initial meeting in the Pentecostal Church. Here the ladies met to learn how to make a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Priscilla Mintz, who creates such attractive floral arrangements, was the teacher. These Tuesday afternoon classes will continue with such interests as floral arrangement, cake decorating, quilting, knitting, totting, according to the wishes of the group. It will be an opportunity to learn a craft and also to enjoy the fellowship of the other members. Every lady is cordially invited.

Glamorgan Recreation Committee are sponsoring their annual "Stump Jumpers" Snowmobile Rally at Gooderham Firehall, February 14. The rally starts at 2 p.m. with a turkey dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. The event culminates in a dance with D.J. from 8 p.m. till 1 a.m. A special occasion is the official sod-turning for the new community centre at 4 p.m. This rally has proved to be very popular in the past and promises to be even better this year. Any volunteer help would be appreciated. If you can assist please call 447-2803.

After a short stay in a Peterborough hospital, friends of Mrs. Dallyn Pickens are glad to know that she has returned to her home. All hope that good health may be fully restored to her soon.

At both morning and evening services at the Pentecostal church last Sunday the "Switzer Singers" brought sacred messages in song which were well received.

Mrs. Pearl Cary is making progress following surgery in spite of her misfortune to slip and fall, which slows up the recovery somewhat. She feels very appreciative of the kindness shown her, especially by Mrs. Muri MacDuff and the many others who sent cards, flowers, donations, and to those who offered prayers on her behalf.

The hockey game between the mothers and children last Saturday at Wilberforce was a huge success both in the enjoyment of the spectators and players alike as well as in a financial way. Approximately 80 were in attendance and the net proceeds will add $60 towards the new community centre. Many thanks are due the mothers who co-operated so that there were sufficient players for the mothers' team so they could have time out now and then. The children's ages ranged from 5 to 10 years. The cheering section led by Jean Noseworthy and Karen Hunter, with their slogans, added much to the hilarity. Another feature was a "gorilla", who distributed bubble gum and who, along with Julie Hunter, managed to get the puck, (an extra one) into the goal when the players were engrossed at the other end.

Players on the children's team were: Jason Stoughton (in goal), Shawn Stoughton, Colin Hunter, Jamie Hunter, Michael Lang, Jason Billings, Michael Billings, Anthony Billings, Timmy Hunter, Kenny Sauve, and Michael Mintz. On the opposing team were: Sharon Hunter, Joan McCausland, Karen Hunter, Barbara Hunter, Brenda Linton, Loretta Billings, Judy Stoughton, Julie Hunter, Tina Noseworthy, Shelley Hunter, Diane Madill and Lisa Bird. Terry Stoughton was goalie for the ladies.

Referees were Roger Sauve and Chester Noseworthy. And how busy they were kept! Let's hope we see more of these worthwhile activities!

Now that the contract for the new community centre has been awarded, we look forward to having diversified interests taking place there. There is a need for such a facility since there are thriving boys' and girls' clubs now, almost bursting at the seams, craft clubs, exercise groups needing accommodation to name just a few. A hearty thank you to those who planned and carried out the game as well as to all others who co-operated to make this such fun!

Minden Winter Carnival is over for another year. Saturday was a lovely day for it and the parade had some interesting and amusing floats. The one that amused me was the old type aeroplane behind the car. I was told that as that float came down Highway 35 for the parade one driver pulled his car off to the side and sat shaking his head for he couldn't believe his eyes. I wonder if he turned around and came back for the parade. Sunday turned into a terrible day and by afternoon one couldn't see cars coming and going even with everyone's lights on. I sure hope everyone arrived home safely but you all come back next year y'hear.

The winner of the second chance draw at Mae's Country Mart last weekend was Cliff Dodd. Buy your Wintario tickets at Mae's and they will tell you all about the draw.

Patti Porter and her friend Irene spent the weekend in Toronto and watched the Maple Leaf Game Saturday evening. I'm sure they were as disappointed as the rest of us with the result, but it is a thrill to see an N.H.L. game in person.

Ground hog day was last Monday - and no shadow. Hurray, maybe there'll be an early spring.

Mike Bird, Kevin Newell, Bill Musclow and Jerry Campbell of Peterborough were all home for the carnival.

Winners at the weekly mini card party last week were: cribbage - Diane Stevens, Luther Wilson. Euchre - lone hands, Verna McDonald; Betty Harper, Johann Beattie.

"Barbecue Green Beans" - 4 slices bacon, finely chopped; 1/4 cup finely chopped onion; 1/4 cup catsup; 1/4 cup brown sugar; 1 tbsp. worcestershire sauce; 1 medium size can of green beans (well drained). Brown bacon and onion. Drain off excess fat and add catsup, brown sugar and worcestershire sauce. Simmer for two minutes. Place beans in casserole that has been lightly coated with vegetable oil. Pour sauce mixture on top of the green beans. Do not stir. Bake at 350 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dudman of Markham were in the village for the weekend.

Expect me late, I'll be early --; Expect me early, I'll be late --; Expect me any old hour; And ... I'll arrive on time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pink of Orillia visited with Mrs. Joyce Hewitt one day last week.

Retirement is when you have this total sense of freedom. You almost feel like picking up the phone, dialing the office and calling in well.

Visitors with the Milton Sears over the weekend were Muriel Ewing and sons, Sandra Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warburton and family, all of Toronto and the Glen Sears family of Oshawa.

Snow and more snow, now they tell us that Tuesday will be as cold as it was in January.

Don't forget to help the Big Brother organization in Haliburton County on their big day, February 14, either by bowling or pledging money to the bowlers. I've done my bit, have you?

There is no time like the present time.

The children's movies at the fire hall have been "postponed" until March 14.

Mrs. Laura Faulkner of Toronto, and the Roy Faulkner family of Brampton visited Mrs. Verna Jarvis on Saturday.

Just remember that the Minden nursery play school will have their regular skating time this week on Thursday afternoon, 2 p.m. - 3 p.m. but next week, February 13 when there is no school. The skating will be 2 - 4 on Friday, February 13.

Middle age is that period when women won't admit their ages and men won't act theirs!

The Fred Hewitt family of Scarborough and the Alex Beattie family of Richmond Hill visited with Mrs. Joyce Hewitt during the weekend.

You see - living has taught me much; Still I'm a puny human without form, sense, or even composition in the things I say and the life I live;

Only God knows me and how much more there is for me to learn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Coulter of Lakefield visited with Angus Coulter last Sunday.

The Brownie and Guides of Minden area are sponsoring an afternoon of children's movies at the Beaver Theatre starting at 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 14. Price $1.50 and the films being shown are "Bon Voyage" Charlie Brown" and "Footloose Fox".

The children will enjoy these films so do try and make sure they see them. Proceeds go to help Brownies and Guides.

Adios and take care now.

"To know how to grow old is the master work of wisdom, and one of the most difficult chapters in the great art of living."

Last week was rather nippy with temperatures staying below the freezing mark most days, although it did get up higher over the previous weekend. However, the beautiful sunshine compensates for any chilly atmosphere that comes our way.

The Lions bingo is still being held on Monday evenings in the community centre. This has been a trial run and if they get decent turn-outs they will continue through the winter months. So, let's get out and support them as it is an evening of fun and not too costly.

I am wondering if anyone has had any more dead blue jays at their feeder. We have a count of nine that I know of. I had a nice letter from a lady in Parry Sound who has had the same experience so it isn't just a local phenomenon. A challenge for the Natural Resources people to find the answer.

The final game of the Legion Zone 5, over 50, bonspiel on the weekend saw the rink from Millbrook taking top honours and proud winners of the trophy. Wilberforce Branch 624 placed second and these two teams will now go on to Trenton for further competition. The second big event of the day was the delicious meal served by the ladies who are expert at providing extra special dishes.

Firemen Dave Barras and George Waugh are attending classes in Haliburton to improve their knowledge in the fundamentals of casualty care. They believe in being knowledgeable about the latest methods available in treatment of accidents and emergencies. A call to test their skills came recently late one night from a mother-to-be. The men, with the aid of Glen Storey, were prepared to deal with the situation but were saved from the ordeal by the arrival of the ambulance from Bancroft just in time.

Wm. and Jean Thomas who operate a tourist resort on Lake Wilberforce are ready to welcome all those who love to ski. This has been perfect weather with lots of snow and bright sunshine and their new business is attracting many visitors. The slopes are in good condition and the skitow in operation. They are open from 10 until 4:30 on Saturday and Sunday and from 1:30 to 4:30 on weekdays. Also available is nine miles of groomed trails for those who like cross country skiing. They are pleased with the interest shown and we wish them luck in their new venture.

Every Sunday afternoon there is public skating at the arena. These glorious sunny days were made for outings and taking advantage of the fine weather were the

by Millie Moss

It's sad to see so many of you down with various ailments and I hope by the time you're reading this your miseries will all be behind you. Albert Crego, Reg McCluney, Joe Belanger, Ruth Menard, Ross Faulkner, Paul Bailey, Marie Card, Bill Moss Sr. and Jason Moss, who had to make still another trip to hospital, this time to Sick Children's. He's now home to stay, we hope and should be getting better in another couple of weeks or so.

The pot luck dinner held at St. James' Vestry following the church service on Sunday, January 25 was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended and I'm sorry I was unable to make it.

As well, I hear the Robbie Burns night was quite a success at Haliburton on Saturday evening, January 24 and quite a number of our Kinmount people enjoyed that very much. Again, I'm sorry I missed that also.

Saturday, January 24 was my mother's 85th birthday and what with three daughters, three sons-in-law, two grandsons, two granddaughters-in-law and two great grandchildren present, along with John and "herself", she was a busy little lady. Her other two daughters phoned long distance to wish her well on her day. She opened lots of gifts and received 21 lovely cards and has asked me to say a big thank you to all who helped make her day.

If you haven't marked the date on your calendar as yet, now is the time to do so: the Norland Ladies Auxiliary is holding a dance at the Norland Community Hall on February 7 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be supplied by the Misty River Ramblers, a lunch will be served. Advance tickets are available at the Hyland Sports Centre at Norland. It is held under the authority of a special occasion permit and should be fun!

Jim and Mary Gillis of Gaiway Road, received a phone call this past weekend from Kenny Dyer, of England. He should be arriving in Canada around the end of February but due to his father's illness, the senior Dyers may not make the trip this year.

Thank you for the very nice card, Stan and Eleanor Jones. The pleasure was all ours.

The Harbour Grace recipe this week is a Strawberry Spice Cake: 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup strawberry jam, 2 cups of sifted flour, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup flour raisins, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. ginger, 1/4 tsp. cloves, 1/2 cup of milk. Beat shortening until creamy; add sugar and beat well. Add eggs one at a time; beat after each one. Stir in jam. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk; stir in nuts and raisins. Bake in well greased 9" square pan at 350 degrees, 45-50 minutes.

Guides, Pathfinders and Brownies. They chose January 31 to attend Camp Edelweiss, near Haliburton. Here they found comfortable lodgings and sleeping arrangements of bunk beds, four to a room, needing only the addition of a sleeping bag and pillow to provide all the comforts of home.

Outdoors the favourite means of transportation was by snowshoe while indoors everyone dressed as pirates. A skit was performed by the Brownies followed by pirate partner games. Sunday was stormy but the girls were able to attend chapel for church service. The success of the weekend was due to good planning of the leaders who accompanied the girls and who made an all-out effort to provide an interesting experience for their charges. They were Mary Barker, Donna Burroughs, Doris Waymouth and Roberta Walsh. A valuable asset to the group was Ruth Hopwood whose contribution was that of cook.

ladies presented them with a lovely birthday cake and we joined together to sing happy birthday. Our thanks to the ladies for making this a very special day.

Saturday at noon several residents boarded the Hyland Crest bus and went downtown to watch the annual winter carnival parade. Our float won third prize for the best non-commercial. It was a nice outing, which didn't take us too far from home in this winter weather.

It contains lists of all the services of every kind in Haliburton County.

In the last minute of play coach Neil Burk gambled by pulling his goalie in favour of an extra attacker but had to settle for the tie.

Minden Bantams did not play last week but are also going into a round robin series with Orono, Bobcaygeon and Sunderland.

That goal came off the stick of Joey Boyle in the first period, assisted by Mike Hughes. Minden's second goal also came from the stick of Joey Boyle, this time in the second period and assisted by Lee Raback.
In the other game on the consolation side, North Oshawa took Knox 4-3.
In the consolation final, Joey Boyle scored the loan goal for Minden while North Oshawa banged home four markers to take the title.
On the championship side, Baysville took Lakefield 4-2 and St. Mary's took St. Andrews 4-1 to set the stage for the final.
In that match, Baysville came out on the winning end of a 3-1 score.

Happy birthday wishes to: Jim Nightingale, Ken Young, Nancy Hutton and Art Austen.
Approximately 30 ladies and gents turned out to the Kinmount Legion Hall, Wednesday evening and thoroughly enjoyed an evening of fun and business combined. The Kinmount Horticultural Society held its annual meeting for the election of officers and combined it with a pot luck dinner which was headed with grace said by Irene McElwain, a 30-year member of the society. Following dinner, the numbers were called from the penny table which we'd had so much fun with prior to dinner. There were lots of lucky winners, I, being one of them. It was the first time I ever tried a penny table and was quite intrigued by the whole affair. Any of you who did not come out surely missed a really nice get-together.

Less than a minute later, however, Eldon Bull completed the hat trick to give Minden a 5-4 lead at 6:09. Assisting on the play was Andy Pritol.
Ivan Ingram got his second of the night to stretch Minden's lead to two at 7:25, assisted by Andrew Shapiera and Kevin Hamilton.
A minute and three seconds later, it was Hamilton who connected with help from Ingram and Shapiera to give Minden a 7-4 lead that held for the rest of the period.
Haliburton had 22 minutes in penalties during the match, while Minden racked up 12 minutes.

win over Bobcaygeon on Friday night.
Haliburton, forechecking fiercely for the last four minutes, delighted the home town fans by scoring the last period goal. Bishop connected on a shot from the point, after being set up by Kevin Warburton and Mike MacNaull.
After pulling their goal tender for the final 65 seconds of the game, Bobcaygeon forced four face-offs in the Haliburton end. On each occasion Haliburton's Kevin Warburton won the draw and Haliburton were able to prevent Bobcaygeon from gap to one early in the second period, but Haliburton stormed back to move well out in front on a solo effort by Jeff Emmerson, and a passing play from Emmerson to Doherty.

Sunderland got a single marker in the period, with 3:05 left on the clock, but Doherty completed the hat trick 14 seconds later to give Haliburton a 5-2 lead going into the third.
Sunderland pressed the attack in the final frame, but managed only two goals by the end of regulation play, giving Haliburton a 5-4 win.

Again this year, the club will be using signs provided by the Ministry of Natural mounting any serious scoring threat.

Bobcaygeon took the lead on three occasions and each time Haliburton came back to tie the score. Barry Boice scored the first of his two goals unassisted. His second goal was set up on a perfect pass from Vince Duchene. Mike MacNaull scored Haliburton's other goal with assists going to Kevin Warburton and Vince Duchene.

The win lifted Haliburton into first place in league play, however, a 7-1 loss to Fenelon Falls on Saturday made the first place stay short-lived.

Changed Routings
We have mentioned here in past weeks the development of a provincial grid of SNO trails. (The designation is taken from the slogan, "Snowmobile Ontario".)

so passionately angry with her slob of a husband.
She called me at work, tracked me down, and gave me a piece of her mind. It was a fair-sized chunk, about half a glacier, I'd say, not hearing a word of my explanation of how clever I had been in my morning arrangements, against impossible odds. It ended in one of us hanging up. Me. And instructing the girls in the office not to accept any more calls for me that day.

It all blew over, of course. After work, I picked up the car, and when I got home, she had several errands for me to do, out in the blizzard.
My whole and only point in this essay, or true story, is that a good, old-fashioned Canadian winter can not only break you physically, economically, spiritually, and emotionally, but even maritally.

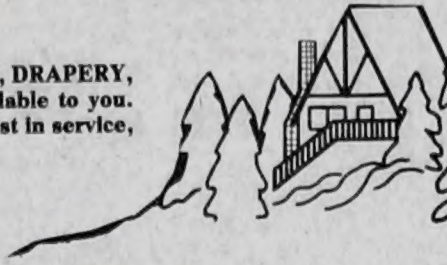

Some minor route changes were necessary along SNO One, most notably in the section which crosses through the Kawartha. The Neptun Trail and the Rathbun Trail, both of which are maintained by the MNR, have been used instead of the formerly planned routing via Young's Point and Buckhorn. This new SNO One route, approximately 30 miles from Haliburton village by the Gooderham trail.

This Gooderham trail will eventually become a part of the provincial grid as an extension of the link with Muskoka. Meanwhile, plans are moving ahead for the official opening of SNO Five on February 28. This trail, too, is being changed. A recent meeting between representatives of three involved clubs, the Ontario Federation and the Ministry of Natural Resources has resolved all routing problems in the immediate area. This new routing will see SNO Five running along the Peterson Trail from Blairhampton to Benoir Lake instead of the Tory Hill route which would have entailed too much road running. It is anticipated that the connecting trail SNO One/Five will be opened on the same day. This link from the Rathbun Trail (SNO One) to the Peterson Trail (SNO Five) runs through the main North-South route of the Paudash Trail Blazers' system.

No Cul-de-sac
As the provincial trail grid develops through this year and next, Haliburton County emerges as one of the best served snowmobile regions of Ontario. Major Trails will link it with Madawaska, the Kawartha, and Muskoka in at least five different directions. Haliburton can become a mecca for snowmobilers, a practical destination point for cross country safaris originating anywhere in the province. They will come. Will we be ready for them?

12 recipients are selected yearly by an independent Advisory Council of Ontario citizens whose honorary chairman is the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province.
